“When considering another vendor, we were talking about a two- to four-week implementation process. With the Quest product, the live migration of 1,100 mailboxes was completed within four hours. We were expecting the archived mail to take about a week to complete, and it only took about 18 hours. We actually migrated more than 1 million mail objects with only a .01 percent data corruption. To have everything done within a 48-hour period was just amazing.”

Mike Moses, systems engineer, Fauquier Hospital
